7. Highlight of Research work (100 words) : My most significant research contribution has been to highlight the policy gap in the implementation and formulation of public policies. Why the State is not able to achieve the goals that are outlined in a public policy and what are the major constraints in implementation of public policy is something that I have attempted to answer in my research. The challenge of making a public policy work in a federal polity and burden of implementation at lower level bureaucracy is something that has been highlighted in my research. Apart from working on public policy, I have been doing research on feminism and dalit issues and my major contribution has been to explain the problem and challenge of these two major themes of contemporary politics from local level narratives so that these important issues can be understood by common people in more simple manner.
8. Any other important information (within 100 words) :

I have worked as part time news reader for Lucknow Doordarshan. In pursuing my interest related to literary-cultural field I have published poems and literary articles in various reputed Hindi Journals. For community services, I have been working as chairperson of District Akansha Committee (Association of wives of IAS officers at district level) and through this I have been helping poor and particularly women in education, child and maternal health issues. One of the most significant contribution has been that using social media/awareness drive, I have been able to raise funds and help many poor farmer's families in bundelkhand region .
